

Item 1. Introduction

Second 50 Financial, LLC (“Second 50,” “we,” “us,” and “Advisor”) is a California limited liability company that is registered as an investment advisor with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission. Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ and it is important that you understand the differences. Please note that free and simple tools are available to research advisory and brokerage firms and their associated financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisors, and investing.

Item 2. Relationships and ServicesWhat investment services and advice can you provide me?

We offer portfolio management and financial planning and consulting services to our clients.

Our portfolio management services include a review of your unique financial circumstances and the design, implementation, and ongoing management of your designated investment account(s). We will directly invest the assets deposited to your account at the custodian and/or strategically allocate your assets to certain independent third party money managers (“Independent Managers”). We will monitor your designated accounts regularly (including any assets managed by any Independent Manager(s)), making changes to your holdings as we believe to be appropriate and in your best interests, acting in accordance with our fiduciary duty to you. You will be required to enter into a discretionary management arrangement that allows us to buy and sell investments within your account and to hire and fire Independent Managers without obtaining your consent prior to each transaction (a “discretionary account”). You may impose reasonable restrictions on our ability to invest in certain securities or types of securities within your account. We will formally review your investments at least annually.

Where specifically requested by the client, we may also provide you with advice regarding the investment of your “held-away” investment accounts (e.g., employer sponsored retirement accounts, qualified tuition plans, variable annuity sub-accounts). Except where you explicitly authorize us in writing to implement transactions within such held-away accounts, you will make all final investment decisions and be responsible for the implementation and monitoring of such accounts.

We also offer financial planning and consulting services that may be combined with our portfolio management services or engaged on a stand-alone basis. We will review your financial situation and assets, risk profile, investment time horizon, and investment goals and provide you with broad-based financial planning advice regarding various different topics as they may apply to your unique financial circumstances, needs, goals, and concerns. Clients receive a written financial plan, periodic reporting on their investments, and ad-hoc financial advice regarding common financial issues which may arise during the course of the engagement. Once the written financial plan is delivered to the client, the engagement is deemed complete. Clients wishing to receive financial plan reviews and updates must retain us separately for these services. Unless we are engaged for portfolio management services in conjunction with financial planning services, you will make all ultimate investment decisions and be responsible for the implementation of our financial planning advice and the ongoing monitoring of your investments.

We primarily advise our clients regarding investments in individual stocks, corporate and government issued bonds, mutual funds, exchange traded funds (“ETFs”), public and private real estate investment trusts (“REITs”), money market funds, certificates of deposit, cash and cash equivalents. We also advise clients regarding the selection of Independent Managers. Our advice may cover other types of investments, including investments held in your account at the inception of our relationship. We do not have any minimum account balance or fee requirements to open or maintain a relationship.

More detailed information about our advisory services and account minimums is contained in our Form ADV Part 2A “firm brochure” at Items 4 and 7.

Conversation Starter: Ask us:

- (i) Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?
- (ii) How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- (iii) What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education, and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

Item 3. Fees, Costs, Conflicts, and Standard of ConductWhat fees will I pay?

When you engage us for portfolio management services, we will charge you an annual asset-based fees ranging from 0.50% - 1.50% per year of the market value of your account. This fee will be structured either as part of a customized tiered fee schedule or as a flat fee charged across the market value of your entire account and will be described in a written investment advisory agreement you will enter with Second 50. Advisory fees for these services are payable quarterly in advance and are pro-rated for any partial billing periods and for any mid-period capital inflows or outflows to or from your account. Unless otherwise agreed, we will deduct these fees directly from your account at the custodian.

We charge fixed fees for financial planning and consulting services that are customized based upon the complexity of your financial situation and planning needs and our estimation of the time and resources necessary to provide the requested services. The specific fixed fee applicable to your financial planning and consulting services engagement will be set forth in a written advisory agreement you will be required to enter prior to the commencement of our services. Fixed fees for financial planning and consulting services are typically paid quarterly in advance, in equal installments. These fees are invoiced to clients in paper or electronic format and are payable within ten (10) days of receipt of our invoice. Any earned but unpaid balance of the agreed upon fixed fee is due to Second 50 upon delivery of the written financial plan to the client. Fees for these services are payable by check, credit card, or other form of payment approved by Second 50.

In addition to our advisory fees, you will separately pay (i) your proportionate share of the expense ratio and other internal fees and costs associated with any mutual funds, ETFs, REITs, and other pooled investment vehicles held in your account; (ii) Independent Manager fees and costs; and (iii) all usual and customary transaction-based fees (brokerage fees and commissions), custodial and administrative charges, wire transfer fees, and other fees and taxes associated with activity and holdings contained in your account.

Where asset-based fees apply, you should consider that the more assets you have in your account, the more you will pay us, thus creating an incentive for us to encourage you to increase and/or maintain the current level of assets in your account.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

More detailed information about our advisory fees is contained in our firm brochure at Item 5.

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment advisor? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment advisor, we have to act in your best interests and not put our interests ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means:

Example 1: The value of your asset-based advisory fee account goes up, and while the annual percentage we charge may stay the same, the total compensation you pay us goes up proportionately.

Example 2: Your account value goes down, but you still must pay us an asset-based advisory fee proportional to your assets under management.

Conversation Starter: Ask us: “Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?”

We are not associated with any broker-dealer firms and our financial professionals do not receive any commissions or other compensation as a result of our recommendation or sale of any securities to a clients. We act as your fiduciary and recommend investments only when we believe them to be in your best interests.

Certain of our financial professionals are licensed to sell insurance in one or more states and may be affiliated with a licensed general insurance agency or act as a direct agent representative of a specific insurance company or companies. Insurance related business is transacted with advisory clients and licensed individuals may receive commissions or fees from insurance products sold to clients. Fees paid to us for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from insurance commissions earned by any of our financial professionals. The receipt of insurance related commissions or fees creates a conflict of interest with clients. We will only transact insurance business with you when fully disclosed, suitable, and appropriate. You may use any insurance firm or agent of your selection.

More detailed information related to these conflicts of interest is contained in our firm brochure at Item 5.

Conversation Starter: Ask us: “How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?”

How do your financial professionals make money?
